

Q. No sir.

By Mr. Hall:

Q. Do you know the name of this strange boy? A. No sir.

Q. It was not Buckeye? A. No. I don't know the name. I don't know anything about the name.

Q. Was there any time when you refused to cook ^{any} meat because it didn't suit you?

A. Yes, once. That was fresh, that piece ~~one~~ we have been talking about.

That is the only time I ever refused.

Q. How many people worked down in the kitchen with you? A. 6 or 7.

Q. Any patients work there? A. Yes, some 3 or 4. None ^{were} women.

Q. How long have you been at the hospital?

A. Some over 2 years.

Q. Do you see any thing of the patients except down in the kitchen? A. No.

Q. You do not go out of the kitchen much?

A. No, I don't. I have to stay right there.

Q. Are they always kindly treated down there?

A. Yes, very.

Q. They are under you I suppose? A. No.

Q. Who has the direction over them?

A. The men who help me.

The patients who help me are men.
