

business we had; and the matter slipped their attention. As soon as their attention was called to it they gave orders in case there was any necessity.

Q. Attention had to be called by some one outside? A. Yes sir; it happened to be in that case some thing they overlooked, some thing I overlooked. I think I ought have mentioned it to them.

Q. How was it about the flannel blanketing? A. I don't think we have made any change in certain grades of blankets.

Q. What are you charging? A. According to my recollection we are charging about the same for blankets destroyed as 4 years ago.

Q. What is the charge? A. It is about what they cost minus some thing for ~~wear~~^{ware}. My impression is now we are charging about a dollar a piece for the blankets destroyed, and they cost us about $1.25 for that grade. That varies a little in the market value. We buy seconds.

Q. How often are patients taken out to ride there on an average? A. They are taken out as often as the superintendent directs and some times a good deal oftener.
