

holding the thermometer for their inspection I remember very distinctly of going in with a ^{certain board} member about ~~4~~ years ago. I remember who the gentlemen were and what the experience was. They found the lodge warm enough at a time when the thermometer outside was 16 below zero and the fires had not been run as long as usual.

Q. What lodges were they? A. Middle and Female.

By Mr. Baker:

Q. Was there ever been any difficulty about the lodges on the female side at all?

A. There has been less for the reason that they are nearer the boilers.

Q. They have introduced no local coils over there have they? A. I don't remember that we have put any in, but we may have put ~~one~~ in the lower hall this winter; I cannot say about that.

Q. There is no extra pipe for heating the lodge on the female side?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. State what the temperature was as you found it in the lodge rooms the night
