Dear Mrs. Eckstein,

I can't think of you - masso - smek as anything, but one common prefix - Sula word, here it is Tushkawamut used, as in Shawmut. You get the ending in Potowomuck, present Patomac.

Re coveesick, I have had listed some cow forms that are mostly not pure tree words, this in unkindness, for I can't clear them up yet. In an idea the Carerix is valid, the cow standing for Quon-, long.
And my troubles about the coveeset type here lead toward Quon- as a boundary term, v. Quonewatuck, division, boundary, fence. The words for beyond also shape into boundary terms, & I should wonder if your ~~the~~ cow-, & kem- names both brought in the other side idea, whether used as a boundary word or not.

My first look at the kem- name & thus at the soap brought up Umbagog, which Abelton thought meant doubled up, & I list. I don't think the Cambalase form applies. Then I fully accept the form of meaning Sylvia & Davis gave it. They were
