

By Mr. Baker:

Q. Did you use to start a little fire of some kind or other round Peter when he was asleep to wake him up? A. When he would lie down in the way I would take a piece of paper on fire to start him up.

Q. To see him hop up? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Used to hop up pretty lively did he? A. He did for an old man.

Q. Pretty abusive of insane people are you? A. I don't think I was.

Q. You never dreamed of injuring him did you? A. Of course I didn't.

Q. And he didn't dream you were intending to injure him did he? A. I don't know what he dreamed.

I think that brought him out of his dream pretty quick. Of course I did that in pure sport.

Don't know whether he understood it so. It was sport on my part.

Q. Shouldn't you be surprised if Sanson came in here and testified to that
