

to him sharply, told him to be careful; he was comparatively a new attendant, had been there but a short time.

Ques. What did you see the attendant do. Ans. I saw him put his hand up as though to strike him. The attendant was Chas. Bailey.

Ques. He remained afterwards. Ans. A short time; he did not prove a good attendant, was untruthful.

Ques. The patient was not hurt. Ans. I did not consider it so at the time.

Ques. You thought the circumstances did not justify anything more than the sharp reprimand you gave.

Ans. I did not think so at the time.

Ques. You heard the testimony of Dr. Butler where he stated with reference to a case where his wife was sick of constipation, you said it did not make much difference whether she lived or died; whether you ever used any such expression or anything equivalent to it. Ans. No sir never.

Dr. Butler. I do not claim he did. He never used an unkind or unfeeling word towards me in his life.

By Mr. Tall.

Ques. You saw the man playing with the gas fixtures.
