

had received a package of goods not fit for use as food, what ^{were} your orders?

A. To report it to the treasurer and steward.
 Q. Did you have such a case? A. I don't recollect any case of that kind now.

Q. Can you think it possible there might have been such a case? A. I think I should have remembered if there had been any thing of the kind. I don't recollect one.

The coffee was generally Rio. It was so on the invoice which I saw myself. I charged into my books all the food goods from the invoices, debited myself with them. The article of coffee was all coffee and nothing else. The last of my being deck it was received in a green state. I think it was formerly otherwise.

Q. Were the goods that came into your hands issued in good condition? A. Yes sir. After any thing had become unfit for food from having it so long on hand I should not issue it but throw it on one side.

Q. Would it be necessary to make any entry on your book? A. Yes sir.

Q. Would you be likely to throw it on
