

Paul Winifred was the one who went to bed on the R. R. bridge to Hulford and fell through upon the ice, killing him.

He told of them 7 ambroses, she's what you call it skeddadle.

Perb Perb-soch the first to learn to read & write. He was a big, blither-faced fellow who went to North Ferrisburgh school. He wasn't no durn-mitted as the others but he used to do their writing and figuring. He declared that when he got "mullied" he went to Oregon to get his wife. Father said there was no railroad; well then he Minnesota; no railroad there; well then Buffalo. "Ben all on his Lord's creation found dis woman. After he found dis woman took us jus' these mules made dis ~~table~~ table."

Perb Perb soch has left a sample of his gifts as a letter mited in a museum to my grandfather.
