Sept. 25/84

Dear Mrs. Eckstrom,

Thanks for your card's, it comes with our first sometime for a good while. I can't say much about your Maine tristers: am off the Me. news still, may sub around them some when the binding is done, ^{it's} due. But I am no use on such as you are at writes in your presence. Then with such Indians alive as there are I'm no face anymore, must have one, need him more than a smother.

I'm got humbled about Monhegan, after bring's what I could scrape together to paper. After all we don't war about the meaning, only what passage was the one, But I have it used indifferent) with Monhegan (in Connecticut) & that runs into the Indian of the Hudson. Then Monhegan, with world acceptance as wolf, gets itself into trouble with me, & a doubt is a doubt. The Conn. Monhegan I could get one, it is likely the northern meaning stops in Rhode Island. But it is the worst mess I have got.
