Norridgewood Sept. 18. 1820.

Dear Sir, Having had the pleasure of a short acquaintance, I take the liberty to call your attention, a few moments to a subject in which I am interested.

Although this mode may be a novel one, yet, it is one I prefer. I shall therefore, suggest my wishes without cautious reserve, or affected delicacy.

It is expected, a Judge of Probate for the County of Somerset, will soon be appointed, although I can not learn, that any thing has been said on the subject.

My Republican friends in this place, and ~~elsewhere~~ elsewhere, have intimated it to me. They are desirous I should make interest; or that they will make interest for me - I am opposed to having Petitions circulated at large, as I have but little confidence in them - there being little or no individual responsibility in them. I have therefore taken the liberty to address your Excellency on this subject - It is well known, the part I have
